HORIZONTAL LIST MENU

The horizontal list menu is used as primary navigation element when a universal search experience is not warranted.

Light Menu	Dark Menu
SolutionsServicesProductsVisionSupport	SolutionsServicesProductsVisionSupport

PAGINATION

The paginator is one of the ways employed to skip through large datasets. Another form of pagination used is infinite scroll, see application patterns.

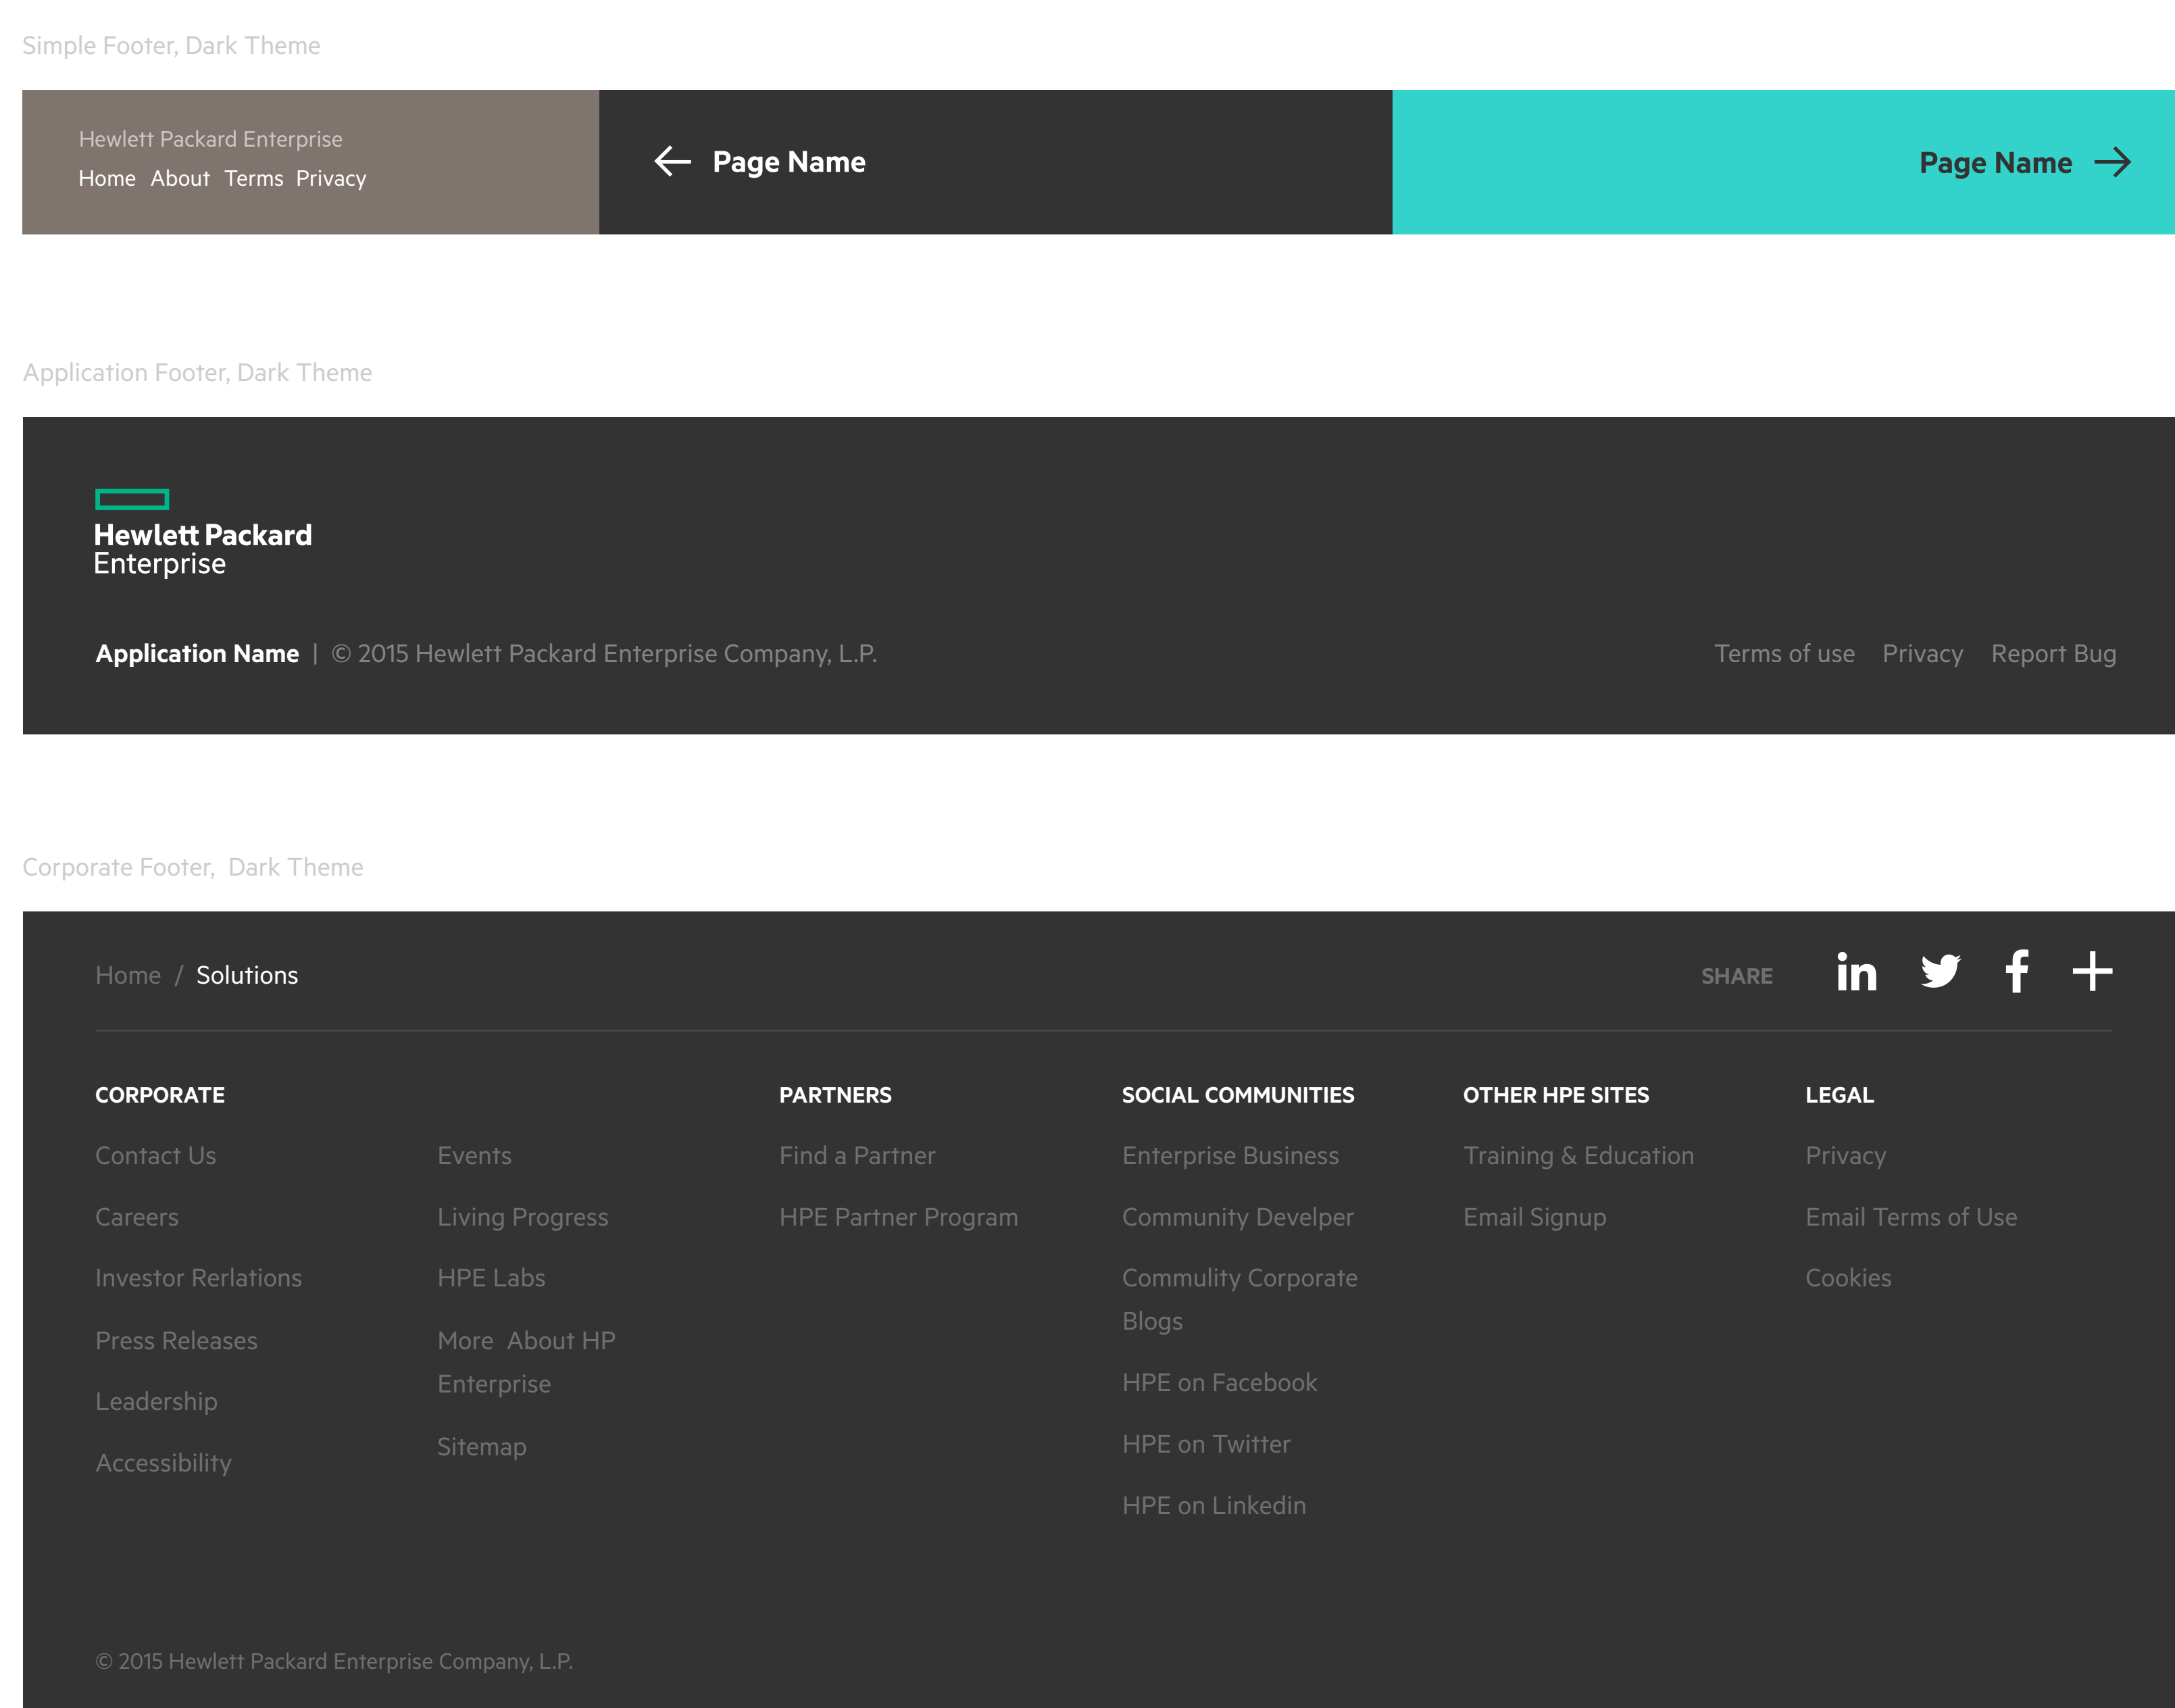

Light Paginator	Dark Paginator
← Previous12345...10Next →	← Previous12345...10Next →

The Topbar is the main navigational pattern. The Topbar can be modified to highlight key actions of a webpage or application. As show below it can have search integrated, extentions and other elements. To learn more visit, application patterns.

Just as the Topbar is the key component for your webpage or application, the Footer must always be present to reference the corporate brand. It should always be at the bottom of your website and/or application home. To learn more visit, application patterns.

When appropriate, an Iconbar can be used as an alternative to Vertical List on small screen sizes and mobile.

When editing rich text for web content or applications, the Toolbar provides an extensible set of actions contained in a slim bar.

Functional icons are used to highlight core actions, visually express common controls, and provide context within web content and applications. Control icons have a larger hit area around them to work well on mobile platforms. To see the full set of icons visit, www.hpe.com/design/resources/icons

Status icons come in multiple sizes for use in different contexts. They are differentiated both by color and by shape for accessibility.

SWITCHES + SLIDERS

Switches are toggle element that switch between an Off and On state on tap or click.

INPUT FIELDS

A variety of Input Field types are used to help users communicate with our services.

IMAGES + MASKS

Images are used across web content and applications to help describe text and actions. There are many different ways to integrate images into your design. Below outlines some of the standard image elements we use in Grommet.
